2026-2027 READ K-3 Literacy Programs and Assessment Reporting – File Layout

READ K-3 Literacy Programs and Assessment Reporting Collection Purpose:

The 2019 updates to the READ Act (SB19-199) require that LEPs report their K-3 instructional literacy programs and READ Act interim and diagnostic assessments by school and grade level (K-3). This requirement is annual, regardless of whether districts are eligible for biennial UIP flexibility.

Important:

The following definitions are provided to differentiate between the various assessments and programs.

READ Act Interim and Diagnostic Assessments: State Board approved interim reading assessment(s) that are given at the beginning and end of the school year to determine whether students have a significant reading deficiency (SRD). State Board approved diagnostic assessment(s) are given to students identified with an SRD for the purpose of identifying the child's specific reading deficit(s).

Core Program: An evidence-based or scientifically based core instructional program is a comprehensive program used to teach initial and differentiated instruction in the classroom. Core reading programs typically encompass both content (curriculum) and strategies (instruction) for teaching the included domains and skills. They provide the instructional priorities, sequence, delivery methods, and materials to articulate how to teach students so they will achieve grade level standards.

Supplemental Program: An evidence-based or scientifically based supplemental instructional program is selected to supplement core reading instruction when the core program does not provide enough instruction or practice in key areas to meet student needs.

Intervention Program and Supports: Evidence-based reading instruction, services, and other supports are selected for students identified as having a significant reading deficiency or as reading below grade level.

Each line in the data file represents a grade level at the respective school code.
